Ohio Speech & Hearing Governmental Affairs Coalition
Legislative Activities Report
January 2018

Both the House and Senate concluded their work for the first half of the 132nd General Assembly after using their final session day in December to act on numerous pieces of legislation. Neither chamber is expected to resume session until the middle of January. The House is scheduled to meet as many as 32 times between January and June, although 20 of those session days are listed as “if needed.” The Senate has scheduled 24 session days during that same time; however, 13 of those days are listed as “if needed.” Legislators will then recess of the summer and much of the fall to prepare for the 2018 election in November.

Looking ahead, over the next few months policy-makers will face the next major state spending measure – the capital appropriations bill for Fiscal Years 2019 and 2020. The legislation, which is designed to fund capital improvements with state-issued debt, is slated for introduction and passage by April 2018 – giving legislators a few short months to pass the bill once they return from recess early next year. The previous capital budget included over $2.5 billion in appropriations, including $160 million in community projects.

In agency news, ODE is reportedly close to naming members of the workforce shortage workgroup mandated by the biennial budget bill. GAC has shared a lot of information with ODE regarding our substantial work in this arena over the years. We are hopeful that ODE will take GAC's recommendations on membership on the workgroup.

In other agency news, the inaugural meeting of the Speech and Hearing Professionals Board is scheduled for Monday, January 22, 2018. The new members of the Board have not been appointed, but are expected to be named before the first meeting. OBSLPA Executive Director, Gregg Thornton, has done tremendous work on the transition; we remain hopeful that he will take over leadership of the new Board.

In election news, two current state senators have announced their intentions to run for the 12th Congressional District, which will be vacated by U.S. Rep. Pat Tiberi, who announced his plans earlier this year to leave office. Senator Kevin Bacon (R-Minerva Park) and Senator Troy Balderson (R-Zanesville) are joined by Delaware County Prosecutor Carol O'Brien who has also announced she is seeking the Republican nomination. On the Democrat side, former Franklin County Sheriff Zach Scott is seeking his party's nomination. As sheriff, Scott warred with the local Democratic establishment in unsuccessfully running against Democrat Andrew Ginther for mayor of Columbus in 2015. Scott then sought re-election in 2016 but was defeated in a primary by Dallas Baldwin, who now serves as sheriff. The Republican-leaning 12th District spans northern Franklin County suburbs and runs northeast to Richland County and east to take in Licking County and part of Muskingum County.

In other campaign news, gubernatorial candidates have started announcing their running mates for the upcoming election. Attorney General Mike DeWine and Secretary of State Jon Husted shook up the GOP race when they announced that they were joining forces. Shortly thereafter, Mary Taylor announced Cincinnati-area business executive Nathan Estruth as her lieutenant governor running mate. On the Democratic side, Senator Joe Schiavoni was the first gubernatorial hopeful to name a running mate, tapping State Board of Education member Stephanie Dodd to run as his lieutenant governor. Former Ohio Attorney General Richard Cordray chose former Congresswoman Betty Sutton as his running mate. Ohio Supreme Court Justice William O'Neill then named Larkmoor Elementary School principal Chantelle Lewis as his lieutenant governor candidate.

Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel recently shocked many when he announced that he was dropping out of the U.S. Senate race, citing concerns about his wife's health. Cleveland businessman Mike Gibbons has been campaigning for months and has received some key Republican endorsements. It is also being reported that U.S. Rep. Jim Renacci plans to end his campaign for governor and instead run for the U.S. Senate.

Former State Representative Rob McColley was formally sworn-in as senator of the 1st Senate District in December. The Senate seat was vacated by Cliff Hite, who abruptly resigned his position earlier this year. McColley previously served as the House's assistant majority whip and was in his second term representing northwest Ohio's 81st House District. McColley was appointed to the following committees: Agriculture, Education, Public Utilities, and Transportation, Commerce and Workforce.

The House Republican Caucus recently announced its replacements for the vacancies in the 81st and 87th Districts. Former State Representative Jim Hoops was selected to replace now Senator Rob McColley in the 81st District and Riordan McClain, son of former Rep. Jeff McClain, was chosen to replace Wes Goodman in the 87th District. Mr. Hoops, of Napoleon, is currently associate vice president for Strategic Initiatives at Northwest State Community College. He also previously served as Henry County auditor. Mr. McClain, of Upper Sandusky, is director of Finance and Customer Service at Doc Investments LLC. He holds degrees from Bluffton University and the University of Findlay.

Ohio's unemployment rate fell to 4.8% in November from 5.1% the month before, but the total number of jobs declined by 5,600 over the month, the Department of Job & Family Services (ODJFS) reported. The number of unemployed workers decreased by 17,000 to 279,000 in November, the latest data show. Over the past 12 months, the unemployed total has dropped by 6,000, ODJFS said. The unemployment rate was 5% in November 2016. The U.S. unemployment rate for November was 4.1%, which was unchanged from October and down from 4.6% in November 2016.

In other news, Governor John Kasich recently announced he will deliver his next State of the State address from Westerville, Ohio on Tuesday, March 6th. Governor Kasich has deviated from giving the speech at the traditional Statehouse location, and has instead traveled to various cities throughout Ohio to give the speech. The request to hold the State of the State address in Westerville, must be approved by both the House and the Senate.
